JUDY GRAHN

Poet, Author, Herstorian

Judy Grahn has been turning the world on its ear for thirty years. She marched for gay rights in 1964, and co-founded Lesbian Feminism in 1969, establishing and running a grassroots press that published Lesbian and feminist work for eight years. Her poems were virtually anthems of the feminist movement during the 1970's and 1980's.

She is internationally known and her work has been taught all over the US and in England; she has given over 800 readings and performances. She has written several books of poetry, two cassette tapes, a novel and a classic Gay and Lesbian cultural history, "Another Mother Tongue". Just published by Beacon Press is her woman-centered theory of human origins, "Blood, Bread and Roses: How Menstruation Created the World".

Her book/play, "Queen of Swords", had a successful and critically acclaimed run at Theater Rhinoceros in San Francisco in 1988. It is currently under production in Los Angeles. The play is based in a 4,000 year old myth, of the Descent of the Goddess Inanna to the Underworld; the underworld chosen for Grahn's setting is a lesbian bar and the Queen of Death owns the joint. Raucously funny, sexy in places and full of lesbian history and feminine psychology, "Swords" is a joy for both actors and audience because of the rhyming, the witty complexity of the language and the deeply mythic undercurrents. Judy will read from a selection of her books for SACWN and share her observations of our culture.

SACWN

FROM THE STEERING COMMITTEE

How does a lesbian networking and social organization get to be ten years old? SACWN started with Rosy Metrailer and a few friends having lunch together in the summer of 1984. The first meeting at someone's home was in August at the home of Barb and Julie. Nineteen women attended, eight of whom are still SACWN subscribers. On September 16, 1984, Linda Birner of MGW, hosted a group of 28 women in her home. Ten who attended that afternoon are still members of SACWN. The third gathering brought 37 women together for food, fun and discussion at Billie's home.

Rosy sent the first newsletter, a handwritten, photocopied, one page letter dated Christmas 1984, inviting everyone to the January 13, 1985 meeting at Kate's home. She set the agenda to include: 1) enjoying a delicious pot luck, 2) picking a name for the group, 3) picking a date for the "first outside social event together" and 4) introductions, socializing and bringing someone new! Thirty six women signed in, twelve of whom are still part of SACWN.

The SACWN archives include the signup sheets for those first four meetings, and computer listing of members from 1987. Thanks to Rosy, there is a copy of every newsletter mailed over the years, 106 in all, the first four of which were handwritten. The first "event" was attending a showing of "Sister Mary Ignatius Explains It All for You" at the Sacramento Theatre Company's Caberet on May 10th, 1985.

More than a thousand women have been part of SACWN over the past ten years. They have served as board members, volunteers, event organizers, and newsletter editors. Women have decorated halls, sold tickets, set up barbecues and cleaned up after each happening.

We want to share our tenth anniversary with you, recall the memories and look to the future together. If you know of the whereabouts of early SACWN members, would you please call (or ask them to call) the SACWN office (451-8034) so we can be sure to invite them to the celebration on October 29, 1994.

SACWN

"I remember having a lemonade stand when I was about 6 years old. We lived next to a golf course and the players would stop for a drink. The next year, I looked for golf balls in the ivy, washed them up and stood in the driveway of the golf course selling them. Then I had a lawn mower business when I was 10 and a newspaper route the following year. I was always outgoing, social and taking leadership, as long as I can remember."

Sandra Nomer's journey to success began at an early age. Born in Denver, her family moved to Los Angeles when she was 5. "When I got my first two wheel bike, I started a Bicycle Club. It wasn't that I was interested in making money, I was always wanting to provide a service. I bought a calf, raised it and sold it. I bought a motorcycle, fixed it up and sold it and bought a bigger motorcycle to fix up and sell."

During her college years, she started a non-profit organization in Placerville, called New Morning. "It is a youth service bureau and I involved the entire community in the project. The churches donated monthly, as did the service clubs. The schools, police department and sheriffs's department all supported the program." After eight years, she went to work for National Communication Center and spent another 8 years traveling across the country presenting training seminars on sales, success, positive motivation and personal growth. She became a Vice President of the company and took over the 800 order processing center in Sacramento. After three years, she was quit to start Fortune 800.

Fortune 800 is a order processing service corporation. They provide phone, fax and mail responses to direct marketing and advertising. For example, if you get a letter saying that there is a new release of the software you are using on your computer, the return address on the envelope you use to order the upgrade, may be El Dorado, CA. Or the 800 number you use to order the software may be one of the 130 lines that is answered by staff of Fortune 800. The company handles responses to advertising, processes the orders, clears the funds, cuts the invoice, picks, packs and ships the order to you and handles any customer service requests that you may have.

Sandra started the company with four friends. The first year they did about $100,000 in business. In each of the eight years since then, business has doubled, and she expects that gross sales will be more than $2.5 million by the end of this year. Specializing in computer software, Fortune 800 does order taking for high end products. "Both software sales and the number of companies we serve are constantly increasing. We are always hiring. Over the next year, we will add 100 more operator stations."

"My business philosophy is simple. Business is service and service is high regard for people. Success in business means that everyone involved is enhanced and benefited by their association with Fortune 800."

"Personal success is knowing your calling, reflecting that calling in your career in a way that does not violate your basic personal values. As a lesbian, running my own business has given me the opportunity to live without fear. I encourage everyone to be all they can be, to not hold back, to have the courage to go for it!"

LOCAL ARTIST WINS AWARD OF MERIT AT STATE FAIR COMPETITION

Deidre Daugherty, a member of SACWN, has received an Award of Merit for her bronze sculpture, Brigit. This is her first attempt at bronze. Ms. Daugherty is not new to the art scene, however. Several years ago she received Honorable Mention in a National Art Competition for a mixed media painting and she has been commissioned by private collectors for a variety of projects.

Ms. Daugherty is publisher of "Working Together," a local publication about self-esteem.

Over 1000 entries were received by the State Fair with only 144 entries accepted for exhibition. Deidre's work may be seen at the Fair Exhibition from August 19 through September 5th.

SACWN

SACWN CALENDAR FOR 1994

Friday, September 16, 1994 - JUDY GRAHN

The poetry of Judy Grahn was the anthem for the grassroots feminist movement in the early 70's. In 1992, Publisher's Weekly named her first collection "one of the twenty most important books of the last two decades." Grahn's work is widely anthologized. She writes and speaks on many subjects including women's, lesbian and gay culture, psychology and mythology, women's spirituality, violence against women, and mental health. She is well known for her workshops on racism, multicultural studies and goddess literature.

Grahn is the author of the groundbreaking Gay and Lesbian cultural history, "ANOTHER MOTHER TONGUE: Gay Words, Gay Worlds". This book defines ceremonial cultural roles of Gay men and Lesbians, both in traditional and modern societies.

Most of her poetry has been staged as drama or mixed with music and dance. She has three collections of poetry: "THE WORK OF A COMMON WOMAN", "THE QUEEN OF WANDS" and "THE QUEEN OF SWORDS". Watershed Tapes produced a cassette of her best known long poem, "A WOMAN TALKING TO DEATH". Grahn has released a cassette of "sound poetry" using electronic and acoustic sounds, "MARCH TO THE MOTHER SEA: Healing Poems for Baby Girls Raped at Home".

In 1969 she began self-publishing her work, which culminated in the founding of the first all-women's press, and she led it for eight years as promoter, fund-raiser, bookkeeper, printer, binder and editor. Judy has taught women's writing workshops and classes since 1975, including classes at Stanford University and New College of California. She is founding The Institute for Women's Arts, Mysteries and Science, which teaches women's sacred texts and centrality of female rites -- including sexuality-- in the creation of human science, psychology and culture. Her newest book is "BLOOD, BREAD AND ROSES: HOW MENSTRUATION CREATED THE WORLD". This book presents a radical new origin theory of culture, science and human consciousness based in the relationships of human beings to menstrual rites.

The Tenth Anniversary of SACWN

Join SACWN for our biggest and classiest celebration of the decade. Imagine yourself at the Grand Ballroom, 629 J Street, a stunning, historic building, once a bank, filled with marble and brass fixtures. As you walk in, the entrance way has a collection of memorabilia from the past ten years of SACWN. You hear the gentle sounds of a harp, as you begin to greet friends. After an hour of smiles and "it's been ages since I last saw you," you join other friends at a gayly decorated table for a dinner, prepared by Food for Thought. Following dinner, there are the thanks and congratulations and thoughtful reflections of the past, present and future, as you swell with the pride of knowing that your support has made it possible for SACWN to celebrate its tenth anniversary. Just as the energy begins to overflow, you hear the sounds of Second Wind. You stand and are moved to the dance floor with the frenzy and rhythm of those around you.

It will be an incredible evening! Please join us. Our success is your success, our community's success. And it's the beginning of SACWN's second decade!

SACWN SAYS....

Wanna Drive A Truck? - CF Motor Freight is looking for persons with current and a valid commerical driver's license with Hazardous Material Endorsements. Call 924-3552.

Three out of 20 is more than 10%! - There is a new book published locally called Success Secrets of Sacramento's Business Professionals. Of the twenty chapters in the book, each highlighting the success of an entrepreneur, three of the women business owners are lesbians. (Perhaps, I should say, at least three are lesbians!)

Slide with us - SACWN is developing a slide show to be used at the next Lambda Freedom Fair. Plans are to change the usual booth into a mini-theater setting and run the slide show continually. People will come into the tent, sit down and get to "see" what SACWN has been up to during the past year. (A first step into interactive technology?) So, we are taking slide pictures, mostly of the performers, at most of our events. If you want to make sure that you are not recognizable in any of the slides, stay to the right of the room and we'll take pictures toward the left when we do "group" shots.

Going to the Yosemite Music & Comedy Festival? How about lunch? - If you are at the festival on Saturday, SACWN attendees are planning a potluck lunch at the RV of Denise and Linda for SACWNites and wannabe SACWNites. Look for a familiar face, get directions and join us. Bring something to share and your lawn chair!

Donations Still Needed - Our subscriber, Jayne Rountree thanks the five SACWNites who gave blood last month on her behalf. She still needs 15 more units, however. See info in last newsletter or call SACWN at 451-8034.

SACWN

SACWN'S TENTH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION!

The remembrances that you have been sending in for the special commemorative program are very special thoughts about SACWN. We'll have a wonderful program, thanks to your memories. We have a wonderful SACWN thanks to you!

Here's a brief preview. See if you can guess who sent the following:

"We enjoyed hosting the first house meeting of SACWN in 1984 attended by about thirty women. Congratulations on 10 years!"

"We met at a SACWN Singles Group, but got kicked out to the Couples Group. We couldn't have been happier! Thanks, SACWN."

"Congratulations SACWN! Thanks for the wonderful friends we've met because of you!"

"SACWN was there for me when I first came out. I'll be there for SACWN for at least the next ten years!"

"I remember my first meeting at Linda Birner's home. Who would have guessed the struggle, the pain, the pride in supporting SACWN though the years."

"Okay, how has one organization managed to please so many lesbians for so long? I mean, we are all so different. We have strong opinions, we know what we like and we let others know!"

So, SACWN, you did a great job of surviving, changing, and reflecting the community's needs. That's amazing. Congratulations and thanks!

The writers of the above quotes will be revealed in the written program of the October 29th Anniversary Celebration. Join them with your support and special thoughts.

REMEMBRANCES OF SACWN

To be included in the commemorative programs, submit your memories, wishes and congratulations to SACWN. Enclose $5 for each printed line (10 words). Include your name exactly as you wish it to appear. Please print or type.
